DESIGN OPTION 1

DESIGN INTENT:

Building upon the language of the local community and extending it to the future.

The locally referenced design style of the Douglas County Judicial Center seeks to carry out this important task of bringing the symbol of law to Douglas County in the 21st Century. The building works to create a welcoming place for the public's interaction, connection and involvement in the judicial system for the county. Frederick J. DeLongchamps Western Classical Revival Design of the 1915 Courthouse is a beautiful embodiment of the judicial system and the needs of the county in the beginning of the 20th century. This building along with a number of the other buildings DeLongchamps designed for the town of Minden have created a great visual language and character which the new design seeks to emulate as a representation of Douglas County, while taking this language and extending it into the future.
