

Collaborative Community Improvement Project Community Meeting

The Collaborative Community Improvement Project is designed to promote dialogue and collaboration between residents and Charles County Government to help identify areas for community improvement. Bryans Road/Indian Head was selected as the first community for this pilot program. Join us for the first community meeting to learn about this project and help give your input on what improvements you want in YOUR community. There are 3 different ways you can participate.

Participate in this meeting to:

- Talk and work directly with Charles County Government staff
- Learn more about current resources and services available to residents in Bryans Road
- Meet your neighbors and build community together
