8 Impressions of the New Building - The Courtyard

These are impressions of what the new buildings could look like

Glazed link between the reception at the front and the Drop-In Hall at the rear

Open colonnades to the other three sides of the court-yard

Proposed view across the Courtyard from the glazed link - E

A glazed link will provide a connection from the existing building at the front to the new Hall at the back of the site. The other three sides of the courtyrad will be open but covered by a colonnade.

Proposed view of the covered walkway and deck in front of the Hall - F, G

The ground floor of the new Hall will be raised in order to stay clear of the existing tree roots. The level difference is used to provide a raised timber deck, as well as steps and seating to two sides of the courtyard.

Stained glass to one side of the link provides privacy and coloured shadows
